Montreal defenseman P.K. Subban picked up his second assist of the game on the goal.

It was the first game as coach of the Maple Leafs for Mike Babcock, the former Detroit Red Wings coach.

NFL expands International Series through 2025

THE SPORTS XCHANGE

NEW YORK — Owners passed a resolution to extend the NFL International Series through 2025 including the option to expand games outside of London's Wembley Stadium.

The vote was taken at the NFL's annual fall meeting Wednesday, where the hot topic is relocation centered around the Los Angeles market and three teams — the Chargers, Raiders and Rams — considering a move.

Three NFL games will be played in London this season, including last week's Dolphins-Jets game that drew a sellout crowd of 83,986.

It's that popularity that the NFL used to endorse the expansion of games to sites that could include Mexico City and Germany.

"This marks an important step in our long-term international growth," commissioner

Roger Goodell said in a statement Wednesday. "Fans in the UK have responded incredibly well to the regular-season games we have played in London since 2007. They have demanded more NFL games, and we have worked to accommodate them. We think it's time to expand our International Series to other countries and respond to the growing interest in our game not only in the UK, but elsewhere around the world."

Already the NFL approved the series through 2016 and has an agreement to play at Tottenham Hotspur's new stadium beginning in 2018.

Rams' Bailey nabbed for napping

St. Louis Rams wide receiver Stedman Bailey indicated on Twitter that the NFL fined him for his nap celebration in the end zone after a third-quarter touchdown against the Arizona

Cardinals on Sunday.

After Bailey caught an 18-yard scoring pass from quarterback Nick Foles with 5:53 to go in the third quarter of the Rams' 24-22 win, Bailey dropped to the turf and acted as if he was going to sleep with the football under his helmet as a pillow.

Bailey's actions didn't draw a penalty during the game, but using the ball as a prop apparently will cost him.

Rams coach Jeff Fisher said he spoke with Bailey about the situation after the game.

"He used the ball as a prop," Fisher said. "It's a foul. It's a 15-yard penalty and you're kicking off from the 15-yard line and that's not part of what we do."

Marshawn Lynch's status uncertain

Seattle Seahawks running back Marshawn Lynch missed Monday's game against the Detroit Lions with a hamstring injury, and it remains uncertain whether he will be able to play in Sunday's game against the Cincinnati Bengals either.

Seahawks coach Pete Carroll said on Wednesday that Lynch's status is still day-to-day, and that the team will not be able to gauge Lynch's availability until later in the week.

Carroll hopes running back Fred Jackson will be able to play despite a high-ankle sprain suffered on Monday. If Lynch and Jackson are both out, rookie Thomas Rawls probably would get most of the snaps at running back. He rushed for 48 yards on 17 carries against the Lions.

Report: Giants' Beckham to receive fine

New York Giants wide receiver Odell Beckham Jr. will be fined approximately $9,000 for throwing a punch during Sunday's game against the Buffalo Bills, ESPN reported Wednesday.

Chicago Cubs beat Pittsburgh Pirates 4-0

BY JOHN PERROTTO
THE SPORTS XCHANGE

CHICAGO — Jake Arrieta carried his masterful pitching over to the postseason by tossing a four-hit shutout as the Chicago Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 4-0 Wednesday night in the National League wild-card game.

The right-hander struck out 11 and walked none in his first career playoff start, needing 113 pitches to finish his gem.

Arrieta went 12-1 with a 0.75 ERA in 15 starts following the All-Star break as he finished the regular season leading the major leagues in wins with a 22-6 record. He also pitched 22 scoreless innings while winning his final three regular-season starts.

The Cubs move on to face the Cardinals in the best-of-five NL Division Series, which begins Friday night at St. Louis. Chicago has won nine games in a row, including the regular season, and allowed just nine runs in that span.

The Pirates were shut out in the wild-card game for the second year in a row despite having the second-best record in the major leagues during the regular season at 98-64. The Cardinals (100-62) had the best record, and the Cubs (97-65) were third best. All are members of the NL Central.

The top two hitters in the Cubs' batting order, center fielder Dexter Fowler and rookie right fielder Kyle Schwarber, combined to go 5-for-7 with four runs and four RBIs while each hitting a home run.

Fowler, who went 3-for-4, became the first Cubs player to have at least three runs and three hits while hitting a home run and stealing a base in a postseason game. Schwarber went 2-for-3 with three RBIs.

Pirates ace right-hander Gerrit Cole took the loss after going 19-8 in the regular season, including winning his last three starts. He allowed all four runs and six hits in five innings with one walk and four strikeouts.

Pirates utility player Sean Rodriguez was ejected following a benches-clearing incident in the seventh inning.
