Bangor 2, Mt. Ararat 0

On Senior Night at Bangor High School on Thursday, Garth Berenyi and Will Hadden notched second-half goals to lead the Rams past the Eagles from Mt. Ararat.

Berenyi scored the eventual game winner on a beautiful shot from 25 yards just seven minutes after the half when he collected a ball off a short clearance from a Mt. Ararat defender and rifled it into the far post.

Minutes later the Rams appeared to be destined to take a two-goal lead, as a Mt. Ararat defender was called for an intentional hand ball and red-carded, sending the Rams to the penalty spot. Rams captain Carson Athley, who hadn't missed a penalty all year, pulled his shot just wide, and the Eagles, who now were forced to play with only 10 men countered, and with the swing in momentum mounted an impressive effort in the closing 28 minutes of play.

With just under 10 minutes remaining in the match, David Miller beat a defender and made an intelligent pass across the box to teammate Will Hadden whose well timed run got him into position to slot home the insurance goal for the Rams.

Mt. Ararat goalkeeper Elliot Bowie was tough in goal for the Eagles making 4 saves on 13 Bangor shots. While Bangor goalkeeper Stanley Clarke earned the clean sheet making 5 saves on 11 Mt. Ararat Shots.

Internationals storm back in Presidents Cup

REUTERS

INCHEON, South Korea — The Internationals produced a stirring comeback on day two of the Presidents Cup, cutting the United States' lead to a single point, with South Korean Bae Sang-moon grabbing a crucial win for his team by holing a pressure-packed putt on the last hole.

PRO GOLF

Trailing 4-1 from the opening day's foursomes, international skipper Nick Price needed a strong start in Friday's four-balls and got just that from Branden Grace and Louis Oosthuizen, who beat world number one Jordan Spieth and Dustin Johnson 4 and 3.

More blue went on the board when Thongchai Jaidee and Charl Schwartzel beat Bill Haas and Chris Kirk 2 and 1, while Bae and New Zealander Danny Lee scored a thrilling victory over Rickie Fowler and Jimmy Walker on the 18th hole.

J.B. Holmes and Bubba Watson got the Americans' only win of the day, beating Marc Leishman and Steven Bowditch 2 up, while Phil Mickelson and Zach Johnson settled for a half point against Jason Day and Adam Scott.

The main talking point from that match, however, was the penalties imposed on the Americans on the seventh hole after Mickelson changed the type of ball he was playing.

Officials disqualified Mickelson from the hole, a decision they later conceded was incorrect, but then added insult to injury by hitting the United States with a one-hole penalty.

With Day winning that hole to put the Internationals one up in the match, they suddenly found themselves two ahead after the penalty was imposed on the Americans before the eighth.

Mickelson was reluctant to cast blame on the rules officials and said the responsibility lay with himself.

"It's the job of the player to know the rules," he said. "It's not the committee's fault, they made a mistake. It's disappointing but they shouldn't have been put in that position."

The incident seemed to fire up the 45-year-old, who needed a captain's pick this year for the first time since 1994, and he delivered the shot-of-the-day at the 12th, his fairway bunker shot from 136 yards dropping near the pin and spinning sideways into the hole.

Play continues on Saturday with foursomes and four-balls before wrapping up on Sunday with 12 singles matches.

Chip-ins delight co-leaders Kjeldsen, Fitzpatrick

WOBURN, England — Matthew Fitzpatrick, the youngest man in the field, again showed he could mix it with the European Tour's elite by ending the second round of the British Masters in a tie for the lead with Soren Kjeldsen on Friday.

Englishman Fitzpatrick, 21, started the day at the top of the leaderboard on his own and a two-under-par 69 gave him a nine-under total of 133, the same as experienced Dane Kjeldsen (68).

The pair were one stroke in front of Thailand's Kiradech Aphibarnrat (67) and Richard Bland of England (67) after another warm, autumnal day at Woburn.

Fitzpatrick, aiming to become the youngest-ever winner of the $4.55 million event, was unable to repeat his swashbuckling opening-day 64 and admitted there were times when he simply had to "grind" his way round.

"I felt like I struggled a little bit out there today," he told reporters. "I hit some bad shots on my back nine but managed to make some nice putts."

The former world amateur number one was thankful for a chip-in birdie at the third hole, his 12th.

"The fact it went in was a bonus," said Fitzpatrick. "I would have been happy just to get it up and down, it was a good little shot."

The 40-year-old Kjeldsen also had a chip-in birdie at the third where he holed out from a greenside bunker.

Jang takes one-stroke lead in LPGA Malaysia

South Korea's Ha Na Jang shot a bogey-free 6-under 65 on Friday to take the second-round lead in the Sime Darby LPGA Malaysia at the Kuala Lumpur Golf and Country Club.

Jang, 23, reached 10-under 132 for a one-stroke lead over China's Xi Yu Lin, who shot a 68.

Three times previously in her rookie season, Jang has owned at least a share of the lead after 36 holes, but three times she has finished as the runner-up. This time, she is hoping this won't be her fourth runner-up but instead her first LPGA Tour win.

"I think today's really good round because no bogeys," said Jang, a two-time winner this year on the Korea LPGA. "Just six birdies straight. I think it's two weeks since I won Korea tournament, so it's a little bit more confident. No pressure today. It's like a little more simple. It's a really good round today."

World No. 1 Inbee Park (66) of South Korea, former world No. 1 Yani Tseng (68) of Taiwan and American rookie Alison Lee (69) all trail by just two shots at 8-under for the tournament.

"Yesterday was a really bad putting day but today was much better," Park said. "Putting is really key to success on every golf course, and especially this golf course. A lot of short irons and when you have a lot of opportunities you got to make those birdie putts."

drive sparked by Davis' 31-yard kickoff return. Rogerson's 14-yard TD pass to Wood and Severance's conversion rush gave the Witches an 8-7 lead.

Brunswick went on top early in the second quarter after recovering a fumble at the Brewer 31. Hanson scampered 11 yards off the left side and Larson added the kick to make it 14-8.

The Witches countered through the air. Severance took a short throw from Rogerson off the right side and turned it into a 31-yard gain on the first play.
