

Vanderbilt pitcher dies in drowning accident

THE WASHINGTON POST

Donny Everett, a freshman right-hander for the Vanderbilt baseball team, died in a drowning accident while fishing Thursday night at Normandy Lake in Manchester, Tennessee, about an hour southeast of the school's campus in Nashville. He was 19.

"We learned last night of the tragic death of Donny Everett, an outstanding young man who exemplified the best of our university," Commodores Athletic Director David Williams said in a statement Friday morning. "As you can imagine, the team, the athletic department and the university are trying to come to terms with this tragedy. His parents and loved ones are on our minds and in our prayers as we share in their grief."

Vanderbilt, the 2014 College World Series champion and 2015 runner-up, is scheduled to begin NCAA regional play Friday night against Xavier in Nashville. According to the Tennessee, the status of the game "has not yet been decided because the university is still gathering information." Emergency crews in Coffee

County, Tennessee, were called to a drowning at Normandy Lake, a popular fishing and swimming spot, at 5 p.m. Thursday. In a statement released Friday, the Coffee County Sheriff's Department said Everett was with two teammates and two other people when he tried to swim across the lake near a bridge. Divers found him 15 feet from shore.

Everett was a heralded recruit out of Clarksville High in Tennessee, joining the Commodores after being drafted in the 29th round of last year's MLB draft by the Milwaukee Brewers.

Muguruza, who like Djokovic was demoted to Suzanne Lenglen Court for her semi, ended the run of 2010 runner-up Samantha Stosur with a no-nonsense 6-2, 6-4 win in front of thousands of empty green chairs in the 10,000-seat arena.

The fans, including one dressed as a bizarre green-horned dragon, could not be kept away once Murray and Wawrinka came out for their highly anticipated semifinal.

With Murray having failed to win a set off Wawrinka in any of their previous three battles dating back to 2013, many expected the Swiss third seed to knife Murray's French Open dreams with his wondrous backhands — just as he had done to Djokovic in the final 12 months ago.

But in front of an audience that included Rod Laver, the last man to hold all four titles at once when he completed the Grand Slam in 1969, Murray heeded his own war cries of "Let's go" to give himself a chance to become the first British man to win the Paris title since Fred Perry in 1935.

Djokovic and Murray, born a week apart in May 1987, are not the only ones in pursuit of records in Paris. Martina Hingis and Leander Paes both completed the full set of grand slam doubles titles when they beat Sania Mirza and Ivan Dodig 4-6, 6-4, 10-8 (champions tiebreak) in the mixed final.

final season at Dirigo. He also was a Maine Mr. Basketball semifinalist and BDN All-Maine first-team selection. He finished with 1,974 career points.

Witham tallied over 1,000 career points for the Indians. He was among the KVAC leaders in points and 3-point field goals.

Ruby had a stellar senior season at Gorham, averaging 15.9 points and 7.8 rebounds. He dished out 2.4 assists and recorded 2.4 steals per game. Ruby was named a Maine Telegram All-State Team recipient.

Owens averaged 9.8 points and 7.4 rebounds per contest and guided the Ramblers to the Class C South final. Owens earned Maine Association of Basketball Coaches McDonald's All-Star.

Lamb joins Owens in the frontcourt after collecting an All-KVAC first-team award while averaging 14.1 points and 11.1 rebounds per game.

Malloy posted 16.5 points, six rebounds and 3.5 assists per game for the Bulldogs as a senior. He was a Maine Association of Basketball Coaches McDonald's All-Star.

University of Maine at Farmington opens the season on Nov. 18 against Wheelock College.

Second baseman Cassidy McLeod leads the team in homers (8) and RBIs (42), and the cleanup hitter is short-stop Audrey Dunstan, who is over .500 and a power threat.

Left fielder Abby Russell and right fielder Grace Farrington hit fifth and sixth and are around the .400 mark. Third baseman Madeline Morrison is at .525 in the seventh spot, and Cullen said she has been a valuable rally starter.

Peighton Ingersoll is the designated hitter and is near .400 out of the eighth spot, and speedy Emma Alley has made the transition from designated hitter to center field and hits in the ninth hole.

Angela Guy is a top-notch catcher, said Cullen.

With the exception of Girsra, Jamo and sophomore

Ingersoll, all of the others are juniors.

The outfield defense is vastly improved, and Russell, Alley and Farrington cover a lot of ground, said Cullen.

"The defense has been phenomenal," said a grateful

Girsra, who is 14-2 with a 2.45 ERA and 90 strikeouts in 92 innings.

"I've gotten a lot stronger," said Girsra.

Cullen added that the team is extremely close-knit and has a team dinner every Thursday night.
