Trick-or-treaters visit Machias businesses

BY JOHANNA S. BILLINGS BDN STAFF

MACHIAS — The town of Machias was overrun Friday by young people hoping for treats.

More than 700 trick-ortreaters and their parents walked through downtown Friday afternoon, stopping at the 61 businesses and organizations that offered candy or an alternative snack for those who couldn't have sugar.

"I love it; I look forward to this," said Sharon Mack, executive director of the Machias Bay Area Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the event. "This is my Halloween. ... I get to see them in their costumes. They're so cute and excit-

Because Machias is situated in a rural area, many children don't live in neighborhoods where they can go trick-or-treating. The event in town gives them that chance, she said.

The chamber has been running the trick-or-treat event, which gives businesses the chance to show community spirit and offer a gesture to families that support them the rest of the year, she said.

In addition to giving out candy, Center Street Congregational Church gave out coffee and allowed tired parents an opportunity to
