Online records database helps sort out Bulls

pored over the individual volumes of "New Brunswick Vital Statistics from Newspapers" at Bangor Public Library, the University of Maine's Fogler Library or Maine State Library in Augusta. The series was published by the New Brunswick Genealogical Society.

Yes, I'm fond of books, but I certainly appreciate a database that is available to me by computer. When he died in 2005, Daniel F. Johnson already had compiled a database of this information, and it was his relatives and others who carried the project through and put it on-when I have more time. Amanda appears to have possibly two lines to Bull ancestry. In one of them, John Twist, born July 1836, was married to Mary Bull, born July 1849.

Mary's father was Abner Bull, born Dec. 21, 1811, died on or about Jan. 16, 1889, Bull's Creek, Woodstock, wick. In The Daily Telegraph, the notice read "d. Bull's Creek (Carleton Co.), wick. Recently I decided to 16th inst., Abner Bull, age

> The notice in the Carleton Sentinel was a bit longer: 'The sudden death of Abner Bull, Esq., at his residence, Lower Woodstock, was announced Wednesday morn. Mr. Bull was a farmer, was one of the oldest residents of the parish."

> Abner's wife, Frances (Perley) Bull, died the same year. She was listed, "d. Lower Woodstock, 28th July, Frances E. Bull, relict of Abner, age 70." We know that the term relict, as does widow, connotes that the wife outlived the husband.

> Here are the simple instructions for using the Daniel F. Johnson database of vital records in New Brunswick newspapers:

Click on Name Index, and the page that comes up will the alphabet for the sur-thored with Byron E. name you want to search say, "B" for Bull. Next it will ask you to fill in the rest of Alms and Work House Rethe name. Fill in "ull" rather than the whole name. Then click on "apply filter." When the page comes up again, add the first name if you like or browse all available pages of Bull entries!

You may choose to do an "index" search, looking for the name you choose as the person who is the subject of the vital record. Or you can choose to look for the name anywhere in the text of the

'Hunger Games' leads Thanksgiving pack at box office

BY BRENT LANG REUTERS

LOS ANGELES — Moviegoers said goodbye to Katniss Everdeen and welcomed back Rocky Balboa, a series of farewells and reunions that powered Thanksgiving box office receipts above last year's holi-

"The Hunger Games: Mockingjay — Part 2â ³ led a crowded field of contenders, topping charts with $75.8 million and bringing its domestic total to $198.3 million. It marks the final film in the hugely popular series, although Lionsgate, the studio behind the franchise, has hinted it wants to figure out ways to create future spin-offs.

The previous two "Hunger Games" films have both debuted the week before Thanksgiving and gone on to rule multiplexes over the holiday. Its dominance is practically a holiday tradi-

If "Mockingjay — Part 2's" strong returns was a familiar Thanksgiving sight, the big surprise was how well "Creed" performed. film successfully brought back Sylvester Stallone's iconic Rocky character and revived a boxing franchise that seemed like a Reagan-era relic after racking up $42.6 million over the five-day holiday period.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and New Line co-produced and co-financed the film, which centers on Rocky rival Apollo Creed's illegitimate son (Michael B. Jordan) and his efforts to continue his father's boxing legacy. Stallone plays his coach and confidant. It should have no trouble making back the $37 million that the studios spent putting the "Italian Stallion" back in Pixar's "The Good Dinosaur" capitalized on school holidays, becoming the de facto choice for families. The animated film earned $56 million over the five-day holiday. That's a solid result and the fourth highest fiveday Thanksgiving opening, but it is somewhat disappointing given Pixar's track record as the most successful provider of all-ages entertainment. It ranks as the third lowest debut in company history. Pixar didn't provide a budget number, but judging from the cost of its previous films, this one likely carries a $200 million price tag.

"The Good Dinosaur" had a troubled production history. The film's debut was pushed back by two years and its original director Bob Peterson was pulled from the project over creative disagreements. He was replaced by Peter Sohn and the film underwent a mas- owed by "The Good Dinosive overhaul.

The holiday period had some casualties. Fox's "Victor Frankenstein" was dead on the slab after earning a torpid $3.4 million from 2,797 theaters over its first five days. The attempt to revive Mary Shelley's monster story cost $40 million to produce and starred James McAvoy and Daniel Radcliffe. It stands as one of the year's biggest flops.

In the holdover realm, 'Spectre" took in $18.2 million, driving its domestic earnings to $176.1 million. The film has now grossed more than two of Daniel Craig's previous James Bond outings "Casino Bond outings Royale" ($167.4 million) and 'Quantum of Solace" ($168.4 million), but seems unlikely to match the high-water mark set by "Skyfall" ($304.4 million).

"The Peanuts Movie" wasn't completely overshadsaur." The adaptation of the Charles Schulz comic strip picked up $13.6 million, pushing its total to $116.6 million.

Among art house releases. Focus Features premiered "The Danish Girl," a drama about a transgender artist who undergoes one of the first sex change operations, in four theaters in New York and Los Angeles. It grossed an estimated $185,000, for a solid per-theater average of $46,250.

The Weinstein Company appears to be scoring with "Carol." The romance about two lesbians pushing against conformity in the 1950s made $203,000 from four theaters over five days. After two weeks, the film has generated $588,000.

Open Road's "Spotlight," the widely acclaimed drama about the Boston Globe's investigation of pedophile priests, continued to perform well in its expansion. The Oscar contender added $5.7 million to its $12 million haul after moving from 600 to 897 locations.

Fox Searchlight's "Brooklyn" also used the holiday period to broaden its footprint. The story of an Irish immigrant making her way in 1950s New York took in $4.8 million after increasing from 598 to 897 locations. It has made $7.3 million in its first three weeks.

Final results are still trickling in, but it appears that the holiday will outpace last year's ticket sales by more than 10%. The uptick follows several weekends of disappointing returns as flops like "The Last Witch Hunter," "The 33â 3 and "Steve Jobs" pulled down box office results. Most analysts expect that despite the fall lassitude, the domestic box office will cross $11 billion for the first time in his-
