Some people have high potassium level

Dear Dr. Roach: I am a 75year-old man in excellent overall health. Routine blood work recently showed an elevated potassium level of 5.6. For the most part, I follow a vegetarian diet, which includes a number of very healthy foods that also happen to be high in potassium. I exercise regularly. Two years ago, my level was 4.9. My cardiologist stopped my metoprolol, as he said that could have pushed up the potassium, and he felt that based on my routine tests it was safe to stop it. I also stopped the 500-mg turmeric supplement I was taking. I take no other drugs. I'd hate to have to give up bananas and the other fruits that contain potassium, which I eat in moderation. Do you think the 5.6 level is cause for concern?

A potassium level of 5.6 is still in the normal range in my hospital's laboratory.

DR. KEITH ROACH

Although metoprolol can raise potassium, it's not one of the medicines that is very likely to do so, such as an ACE inhibitor or spironolactone. Some people just have a high normal potassium. Turmeric, on the other hand, has lots of potassium, so stopping that was reasonable. I would recommend that you not worry too much about the potassium and keep up your diet, including fruits in moderation. I would recommend that you avoid salt substitutes, since they have very high amounts of potassium. Dear Dr. Roach: I have two health questions that have been on my mind for months. I have hypothyroid protein can have adverse ism and am taking 50 mcg of ate a lot of soy products, especially tofu. When I learned I had hypothyroidism, I was told that soy was a big negative, so I stopped eating soy products and added eggs and fish to my diet. My question to you is: Could this be the reason why I am hypothyroid? I asked my doctor, and he says there is nothing in the medical field telling him that soy is a problem. Should I still stay away from soy products?

I also have heard in the news that when taking Synthroid in the morning, you should wait at least one hour before drinking coffee. Is that something I should do? I have been drinking my coffee every morning right after I have taken my Synthroid pill. — S.C.

I also have read that soy effects on thyroid metabolism. Synthroid every day. I started However, a 2006 review of 14 studies found that soy has very

I became a vegan in 1990. I little effect on metabolism in adults; however, because soy protein can decrease absorption of thyroid hormone (thyroxine, or T3), infants with congenital hypothyroidism are recommended not to take soy-based formula.

Eating lots of soy doesn't cause hypothyroidism. Most cases are caused by an autoimmune response against the thyroid. I don't think you need to avoid all soy protein, but keep to reasonable levels.

Other foods can decrease thyroid hormone absorption. You are on a small dose of thyroid hormone, so it could possibly be affecting you. Waiting 30-60 minutes after breakfast improves absorption. The study looked at breakfast, not just coffee, but some experts recommend waiting after even coffee if your levels are low.

If you have been fine, by both symptoms and blood tests, I wouldn't recommend cashes the king of clubs. When the changing.

Bridge by Frank Stewart National championship?

The ACBL has a few events for women. The Women's Knockout Teams at the Summer NABC runs concurrently with the Spingold, the tournament's major event. While 90 teams entered the Spingold this year, the women's KO had eight. Its main purpose seems to be giving women professionals a chance to collect some fees. In today's deal, West led a spade against 3NT: ten, queen, king. Declarer led a club to the ace, came to her queen of diamonds ... and took the ace!

West discarded, and South was sunk. She took the king of clubs and the king of diamonds, lost a diamond to East, won the spade return, cashed the fifth diamond and gave up.

EXTRA CHANCE

This was a simple exercise in getting an extra chance. After South 55 takes the queen of diamonds, she jack falls, South forces out the queen and has four club tricks and nine in all. The result in the replay was the Low participation makes this event untenable as a "national championship." Maybe it should be scrapped.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold: • Q 9 • A 6 4 3 2 ♦ J 9 7 4 ♣ J 2. Your partner opens ou respond one heart, he bids two clubs and you try two diamonds. Partner then bids two spades. What do you say?

ANSWER: Your values are maximum; your two-diamond preference showed at most nine points. Since partner's two spades says he is still interested in game, you can cooperate, especially since your ace of hearts is a good card opposite his likely singleton. Bid five diamonds.
