Juggling treatments; safe, active seniors

Q: I've had asthma for 25 years, and now, at age 58, I have been diagnosed with diabetes. I'm overwhelmed with all the meds and procedures I need. How do I keep things straight? — Jeri H., Salem, Oregon

DOCTORS OZ AND ROIZEN

Q: I moved into a retirement community recently, after my husband died. I am amazed by how much "social interaction" there is. Do you think it's weird for me to start dating again at my age (78)? — Frannie K., Santa Monica, California

Before Monty Python gave their farewell performance on July 20, 2014, Eric Idle, 73, announced that the evening would feature "comedy, pathos, music and a tiny piece of ancient sex." Well, according to a new study in the journal Leisure Sciences, a surprising number of seniors are pursuing more than just a tiny piece of ancient sex. In senior communities around the globe, residents told the researchers that they are using "myriad strategies to maintain sexuality, despite limiting constraints."

review of all your prescriptions and supplements biannually and whenever you get a new prescription. And get all your meds from the same pharmacy. Then discuss using digital monitors and apps that can help you and your doctor track your treatment. Once you have all the info you need, write out a medication and/or treatment schedule, and check off each item daily. And write down any questions that come up between appointments so that you can ask your doc and/or pharmacist the next time you see them.

Sudoku is a number-placing puzzle based on a 9x9 grid with several given numbers. The object is to place the numbers 1 to 9 in the empty squares so that each row, each column and each 3x3 box contains the same number only once. The difficulty level of the Conceptis Sudoku increases from Monday to Sunday.
